

SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT

April 30, 2024

FORT PITT CAPITAL TOTAL RETURN FUND c/o U.S. Bank Global Fund Services P.O. Box 701 Milwaukee, WI 53201-0701 1-866-688-8775

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

As of April 30, 2024, the net asset value ("NAV") of the Fort Pitt Capital Total Return Fund (the "Fund") was $26.96 per share. Total return (including a $4.6569 per share dividend) for the semi-annual fiscal period ended April 30, 2024, was 25.00%. This compares with a total return of 20.98% for the S&P 500 Index ("S&P 500") for the same period.

Consistent with the recent trend, the Fund's holdings in the technology sector were the primary contributors to the outperformance. And within the technology sector, the artificial intelligence ("AI") beneficiaries were at the top of the list of winners. However, returns were more evenly distributed across market sectors over the past six months. Holdings within the financial services, healthcare, and industrial sectors also contributed to strong performance results.

Our top five performers were Coherent Corp., Advanced Micro Devices, Broadcom Inc., Lam Research Corp., and Zebra Technologies Corp. Shares of Coherent Corp benefited from a cyclical recovery in end markets such as telecom and semiconductor capital equipment. Coherent also experienced strong demand for their optical equipment to be utilized for AI infrastructure within data centers. Shares of Advanced Micro Devices were well supported by multiple increases to their datacenter graphics processing units revenue forecasts and continued share gains from Intel in server and PC central processing units. Broadcom shares were boosted by significant increases in capital expenditure plans from the top U.S. cloud service providers, which is expected to ramp into a strong multi-year spending cycle in the AI infrastructure build-out and support demand for Broadcom's custom chips. Shares of Lam Research Corp advanced as semiconductor equipment spending fundamentals have shown improvement and investors have grown more confident in Lam's backlog visibility and the growth outlook. Zebra Technologies shares climbed as the company reported a sequential improvement in retail and mobile computing demand and issued improved full-year revenue guidance.

Our bottom five performers were Lululemon Athletica Inc., Starbucks Corp., Bristol-Myers Squibb Company, Keysight Technologies Inc., and Gaming & Leisure Properties Inc. Shares of Lululemon were hit hard after the company posted quarterly earnings results that showed continued strength in their international segments but a miss in overall same-store-sales comps. Lululemon's full-year guidance also fell below consensus expectations for both revenue and earnings per share, leaving investors concerned about an increasingly competitive environment. Starbucks Corp., a new addition in the fiscal second quarter, disappointed investors as same-storesales growth and earnings results missed management's ambitious goals. Bristol-Myers Squibb Company shares dropped as investors remained unimpressed with the gradual launch of new products and concerns remain about the overhang from future loss of exclusivity with several key drugs. While the stock is clearly cheap, we struggled to identify a catalyst to improve investor sentiment and normalize the depressed valuation. As a result, we exited our Bristol-Myers position. Shares of Keysight Technologies, also a new addition to the Fund in the fiscal second quarter, declined marginally as near-term weakness in the Smartphone and commercial communications segments have delayed expectations for a recovery in business trends. Shares of Gaming & Leisure Properties fell as interest rates climbed, translating to a continuation of elevated cost of capital levels for Real Estate Investment Trusts.

The Fund's total return for the one-year period ended April 30, 2024, was 22.42%, compared to 22.66% for the S&P 500. The Fund's annualized total return for the three-year period ended April 30, 2024, was 5.17%, compared to 8.06% for the S&P 500. Over the five-year period ended April 30, 2024, the Fund's annualized total return was 8.54%, while the S&P 500's annualized return was 13.19%. Over the ten-year period ended April 30, 2024, the Fund's annualized total return was 9.55%, while the S&P 500's annualized return was 12.41%. Since inception on December 31, 2001, through April 30, 2024, the Fund has produced a total return of 8.67% annualized (540.05% cumulative), compared to 8.94% annualized (576.45% cumulative) for the S&P 500. The Fund's total annual gross operating expense ratio is 1.17% (1.00% net), as of the Fund's most recently filed Prospectus.

Performance data quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance of the Fund may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Performance data current to the most recent month end may be obtained by calling 1-866-688-8775. Performance data quoted does not reflect any redemption fees for shares purchased prior to the elimination of the Fund's short-term redemption fees. If reflected, total returns would be reduced. Performance figures reflect fee waivers in effect. In the absence of waivers, total returns would be lower. Fort Pitt Capital Group, LLC (the "Advisor"), has contractually agreed to waive all or a portion of its management fees and reimburse Fund expenses through at least February 27, 2025.

The economy continued to defy expectations and remained resilient. The advanced Q1 Gross Domestic Product (a measure of the value of total final output of goods and services produced by an economy) print of 1.6% came in below expectations for 2.4% growth and represented a significant slowdown compared to the fourth quarter's impressive 3.5% growth rate. However, the first quarter GDP miss was primarily attributable to volatile categories such as inventories and trade, while consumer spending and residential investment remained strong. Employment growth averaged a solid 245,000 monthly additions to the payrolls over the year's first four months. U.S. manufacturing activity expanded in March for the first time since September 2022. And consumer balance sheets are still reasonably healthy in aggregate.

It's difficult to find compelling evidence that our economy is buckling under the weight of overly restrictive interest rates. Back in January, markets were pricing in six or seven interest rate cuts in 2024. We felt those calls were wildly misguided and unrealistic unless something went horribly wrong in the financial system. The avoidance of financial catastrophes combined with better economic data, the string of robust job gains, and sticky inflation readings have led the market to dramatically reprice expectations for interest rate cuts from the Fed this year. Market pricing currently points to only one or two cuts in 2024, and we've recently heard several Federal Reserve Governors ponder the big question out loud – do they need to cut at all this year?

In aggregate, equity markets have taken the repricing of interest rate cut expectations in stride and have managed to shake off a string of hotter-than-expected inflation reports in short order. We'd primarily attribute that outcome to a shift in the narrative. Markets have at least temporarily moved away from the "bad news is good news" because it means faster and deeper rate cuts view. Investors are instead focusing on the view that "good news is good news" because stronger economic growth, a healthy labor market, and some residual inflation in the system are positives for corporate earnings growth. We'll see how these dueling narratives unfold throughout the year. But we suspect the bond market will be the final arbiter. Interest rates breaking above their recent range and returning to the highs seen last fall would present a meaningful challenge to the equity market rally.

Thank you for your continued support of our Fund.

Mutual fund investing involves risk; principal loss is possible. Investments in debt securities typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. Small and medium-capitalization companies tend to have limited liquidity and greater price volatility than large capitalization companies.

Percentages represent market value as a percentage of total investments.

EXPENSE EXAMPLE at April 30, 2024 (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of a mutual fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including redemption fees and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution and/or service fees; and other fund expenses. This Example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The Example is based on an investment of 1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period 11/1/23 - 4/30/24.

Actual Expenses

The first line of the following table provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. Although the Fund charges no sales loads or transaction fees, you will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers, returned checks, and stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by U.S. Bank Global Fund Services, the Fund's transfer agent. To the extent the Fund invests in shares of other investment companies as part of its investment strategy, you will indirectly bear your proportionate share of any fees and expenses charged by the underlying funds in which the Fund invests in addition to the expenses of the Fund. Actual expenses of the underlying funds are expected to vary among the various underlying funds. These expenses are not included in the example below. The Example below includes, but is not limited to, management fees, fund accounting, custody and transfer agent fees. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds. Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as redemption fees or exchange fees. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

	Beginning Account Value 11/1/23	Ending Account Value 4/30/24	Expenses Paid During Period* 11/1/23 – 4/30/24
Actual	$1,000.00	$1,250.00	$5.59
Hypothetical	$1,000.00	$1,019.89	$5.02
(5% return before expenses)

* Expenses are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.00%, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 182 (days in most recent fiscal half-year)/366 days to reflect the one-half year expense.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS at April 30, 2024 (Unaudited)

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION

The Fort Pitt Capital Total Return Fund (the "Fund") is a diversified series of Advisors Series Trust (the "Trust"), which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act"), as amended, as an open-end management investment company. The Fund follows the investment company accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standard Codification Topic 946 "Financial Services – Investment Companies." The Fund began operations on December 31, 2001.

The investment goal of the Fund is to seek to realize a combination of long-term capital appreciation and income that will produce maximum total return. The Fund seeks to achieve its goal by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of common stocks of domestic (U.S.) companies and fixed income investments.

NOTE 2 – SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund. These policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

- A. Security Valuation: All investments in securities are recorded at their estimated fair value, as described in Note 3.
- B. Federal Income Taxes: It is the Fund's policy to comply with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no Federal income or excise tax provision is required.
  - The Fund recognizes the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only where the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. The tax returns of the Fund's prior three fiscal years are open for examination. Management has reviewed all open tax years in major jurisdictions and concluded that there is no impact on the Fund's net assets and no tax liability resulting from unrecognized tax events relating to uncertain income tax positions taken or expected to be taken on a tax return. The Fund identifies its major tax jurisdictions as U.S. Federal and the state of Wisconsin. The Fund is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will change materially in the next twelve months.
- C. Securities Transactions, Income and Distributions: Securities transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Realized gains and losses on securities sold are determined on the basis of identified cost. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Dividend income and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the Fund's understanding of the applicable country's tax rules and rates.
  - Common expenses of the Trust are typically allocated among the funds in the Trust based on a fund's respective net assets, or by other equitable means.

The Fund distributes substantially all net investment income, if any, and net realized capital gains, if any, annually. Distributions from net realized gains for book purposes may include short-term capital gains. All short-term capital gains are included in ordinary income for tax purposes. The amount of dividends and distributions to shareholders from net investment income and net realized capital gains is determined in accordance with Federal income tax regulations which differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. To the extent these book/tax differences are permanent, such amounts are reclassified with the capital accounts based on their Federal tax treatment.

- D. Reclassification of Capital Accounts: Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that certain components of net assets relating to permanent differences be reclassified between financial and tax reporting. These reclassifications have no effect on net assets or net asset value per share.
- E. Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
- F. REITs: The Fund has made certain investments in real estate investment trusts ("REITs") which pay dividends to their shareholders based upon available funds from operations. It is quite common for these dividends to exceed the REITs' taxable earnings and profits resulting in the excess portion being designated as a return of capital. The Fund intends to include the gross dividends from such REITs in their annual distribution to its shareholders and, accordingly, a portion of the Fund's distributions may also be designated as a return of capital.
- G. Events Subsequent to the Fiscal Period End: In preparing the financial statements as of April 30, 2024, management considered the impact of subsequent events for potential recognition or disclosure in the financial statements. A Special Meeting of shareholders of the Fort Pitt Capital Total Return Fund took place on June 20, 2024 (see Note 10).

NOTE 3 – SECURITIES VALUATION

The Fund has adopted authoritative fair value accounting standards which establish an authoritative definition of fair value and set out a hierarchy for measuring fair value. These standards require additional disclosures about the various inputs and valuation techniques used to develop the measurements of fair value, a discussion in changes in valuation techniques and related inputs during the period and expanded disclosure of valuation levels for major security types. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

- Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access.
- Level 2 Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates and similar data.
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available, representing the Fund's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

Following is a description of the valuation techniques applied to the Fund's major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

The Fund determines the fair value of its investments and computes its net asset value per share as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange (4:00 pm EST).

Equity Securities – The Fund's investments are carried at fair value. Equity securities, including common stocks and real estate investment trusts, that are primarily traded on a national securities exchange shall be valued at the last sale price on the exchange on which they are primarily traded on the day of valuation or, if there has been no sale on such day, at the mean between the bid and asked prices. Securities primarily traded in the NASDAQ Global Market System for which market quotations are readily available shall be valued using the NASDAQ Official Closing Price ("NOCP"). If the NOCP is not available, such securities shall be valued at the last sale price on the day of valuation, or if there has been no sale on such day, at the mean between the bid and asked prices. Over-the-counter securities which are not traded in the NASDAQ Global Market System shall be valued at the most recent sales price. To the extent these securities are actively traded and valuation adjustments are not applied, they are categorized in level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

Investment Companies – Investments in open-end mutual funds, including money market funds, are generally priced at their net asset value per share provided by the service agent of the funds and will be classified in level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

Short-Term Securities – Short-term debt securities, including those securities having a maturity of 60 days or less, are valued at the evaluated mean between the bid and asked prices. To the extent the inputs are observable and timely, these securities would be classified in level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The Board of Trustees (the "Board") has adopted a valuation policy for use by the Fund and its Valuation Designee (as defined below) in calculating the Fund's net asset value ("NAV"). Pursuant to Rule 2a-5 under the 1940 Act, the Board has designated the Fund's investment advisor, Fort Pitt Capital Group, LLC (the "Advisor"), as the "Valuation Designee" to perform all of the fair value determinations as well as to perform all of the responsibilities that may be performed by the Valuation Designee in accordance with Rule 2a-5, subject to the Board's oversight. The Advisor, as Valuation Designee is, authorized to make all necessary determinations of the fair values of portfolio securities and other assets for which market quotations are not readily available or if it is deemed that the prices obtained from brokers and dealers or independent pricing services are unreliable.

Depending on the relative significance of the valuation inputs, fair valued securities may be classified in either level 2 or level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities is not an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. The following is a summary of the inputs used to value the Fund's securities as of April 30, 2024:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total

In June 2022, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update 2022-03, which amends Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Fair Value Measurement of Equity Securities Subject to Contractual Sale Restrictions ("ASU 2022-03"). ASU 2022-03 clarifies guidance for fair value measurement of an equity security subject to a contractual sale restriction and establishes new disclosure requirements for such equity securities. ASU 2022-03 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods within those fiscal years, with early adoption permitted. Management is currently evaluating the impact of these amendments on the Fund's financial statements.

In October 2022, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") adopted a final rule relating to Tailored Shareholder Reports for Mutual Funds and Exchange-Traded Funds; Fee Information in Investment Company Advertisements. The rule and form amendments will, among other things, require the Fund to transmit concise and visually engaging shareholder reports that highlight key information. The amendments will require that funds tag information in a structured data format and that certain more indepth information be made available online and available for delivery free of charge to investors on request. ### NOTE 4 – INVESTMENT ADVISORY FEE AND OTHER TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

The Advisor provides the Fund with investment management services under an investment advisory agreement. The Advisor furnishes all investment advice, office space, facilities, and provides most of the personnel needed by the Fund. As compensation for its services, the Advisor is entitled to a monthly fee at the annual rate of 0.76%, based upon the average daily net assets of the Fund. For the six months ended April 30, 2024, the Fund incurred $234,689 in advisory fees.

The Fund is responsible for its own operating expenses. The Advisor has agreed to contractually reduce fees payable to it by the Fund and to pay Fund operating expenses to the extent necessary to limit the Fund's aggregate annual operating expenses (excluding acquired fund fees and expenses, interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, and extraordinary expenses) to 1.00% of average daily net assets. Any such reduction made by the Advisor in its fees or payment of expenses which are the Fund's obligation are subject to reimbursement by the Fund to the Advisor, if so requested by the Advisor, in any subsequent month in the 36-month period from the date of the management fee reduction and expense payment if the aggregate amount actually paid by the Fund toward the operating expenses for such fiscal year (taking into account the reimbursement) will not cause the Fund to exceed the lesser of: (1) the expense limitation in place at the time of the management fee reduction and expense payment; or (2) the expense limitation in place at the time of the reimbursement. Any such reimbursement is also contingent upon Board of Trustees review and approval. Such reimbursement may not be paid prior to a Fund's payment of current ordinary operating expenses. For the six months ended April 30, 2024, the Advisor reduced its fees in the amount of $55,614; no amounts were reimbursed to the Advisor. The Advisor may recapture portions of the amounts shown below no later than the corresponding dates:

Date	Amount
10/31/2024	$ 46,017
10/31/2025	102,748
10/31/2026	110,211
4/30/2027	55,614
	$314,590

(a) The book-basis and tax-basis net unrealized appreciation is attributable primarily to the tax deferral of losses on wash sales.

NOTE 7 - PRINCIPAL RISKS

Below is a summary of some, but not all, of the principal risks of investing in the Fund, each of which may adversely affect the Fund's net asset value and total return. The Fund's most recent prospectus provides further descriptions of the Fund's investment objective, principal investment strategies and principal risks.

• General Market Risk: Economies and financial markets throughout the world are becoming increasingly interconnected, which increases the likelihood that events or conditions in one country or region will adversely impact markets or issuers in other countries or regions. Securities in the Fund's portfolio may underperform in comparison to securities in general financial markets, a particular financial market or other asset classes due to a number of factors, including: inflation (or expectations for inflation); interest rates; global demand for particular products or resources; natural disasters or events; pandemic diseases; terrorism; regulatory events; and government controls. U.S. and international markets have experienced significant periods of volatility in recent years and months due to a number of economic, political and global macro factors, which has resulted in disruptions to business operations and supply chains, stress on the global healthcare system, growth concerns in the U.S. and overseas, staffing shortages and the inability to meet consumer demand, and widespread concern and uncertainty. Continuing uncertainties regarding interest rates, rising inflation, political events, rising government debt in the U.S. and trade tensions also contribute to market volatility. Conflict, loss of life and disaster connected to ongoing armed conflict between Ukraine and Russia in Europe and Israel and Hamas in the Middle East could have severe adverse effects on the region, including significant adverse effects on the regional or global economies and the markets for certain securities. The U.S. and the European Union imposed sanctions on certain Russian individuals and companies, including certain financial institutions, and have limited certain exports and imports to and from Russia. The war has contributed to recent market volatility and may continue to do so.

- Sector Emphasis Risks: Securities of companies in the same or related businesses, if comprising a significant portion of the Fund's portfolio, could react in some circumstances negatively to market conditions, interest rates and economic, regulatory or financial developments and adversely affect the value of the portfolio to a greater extent than if such business comprised a lesser portion of the Fund's portfolio.
- Equity Securities Risks: The price of equity securities may rise or fall because of economic or political changes or changes in a company's financial condition, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. In addition, as noted below, certain sectors of the market may be "out of favor" during a particular time period which can result in volatility in equity price movements. These price movements may result from factors affecting individual companies, sectors or industries selected for the Fund's portfolio or the securities market as a whole, such as changes in economic or political conditions.
- Large Capitalization Company Risks: Larger, more established companies may be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges like changes in consumer tastes or innovative smaller competitors. In addition, large-cap companies are sometimes unable to attain the high growth rates of successful, smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion.
- Small- and Medium-Capitalization Company Risks: Investing in small and medium capitalization companies can be riskier than investing in larger, more established companies. Securities of small-cap or medium-cap companies may trade less frequently and in smaller volumes than securities of larger companies.
- Interest Rate Risks: The Fund's investments in fixed income securities will change in value based on changes in interest rates. If rates increase, the value of these investments generally declines. Securities with greater interest rate sensitivity and longer maturities generally are subject to greater fluctuations in value.
- Credit Risks: An issuer may be unable or unwilling to make timely payments of principal and interest or to otherwise honor its obligations.
- American Depositary Receipts Risks: Investing in ADRs may involve risks in addition to the risks in domestic investments, including less regulatory oversight and less publicly-available information, less stable governments and economies, and non-uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards.
- U.S. Government Obligations Risks: U.S. Government obligations are viewed as having minimal or no credit risk but are still subject to interest rate risk. Securities issued by certain U.S. Government agencies and U.S. Government-sponsored enterprises are not guaranteed by the U.S. Government or supported by the full faith and credit of the United States. If a government-sponsored entity is unable to meet its obligation, the performance of the Fund may be adversely impacted.

• Investment Company Risks: When the Fund invests in an ETF or mutual fund, it will bear additional expenses based on its pro rata share of the ETF's or mutual fund's operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds. The Fund also will incur brokerage costs when it purchases ETFs.

NOTE 8 - CONTROL OWNERSHIP

The beneficial ownership, either directly or indirectly, of more than 25% of the voting securities of a fund creates a presumption of control of the fund, under Section 2(a)(9) of the 1940 Act. As of April 30, 2024, Charles Schwab & Co., for the benefit of their customers, owned 69.07% of the outstanding shares of the Fund.

NOTE 9 – TRUSTEES AND OFFICERS

Effective March 22, 2024, Ms. Lillian Kabakali was appointed Secretary and Vice President of the Trust and Ms. Elaine Richards was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Trust. Previously, Ms. Kabakali served as Assistant Secretary and Ms. Richards served as Secretary and Vice President of the Trust. Effective June 6, 2024, Ms. Cheryl King retired from her service as Assistant Treasurer of the Trust.
